

Artifacts from the Gerald Johnson Collection are exhibited in the Gerald Johnson wing of the museum. This outstanding collection reflects the man behind it: Gerald Johnson. A Payne County native who is a passionate collector of artifacts of the Southwest and pioneer days; Johnson has amassed one of the most unusual collections of its kind in the country. The exhibits of the Gerald Johnson Collection will educate, entertain, and—at times—amaze you.